oneZero Financial Systems is a global software development company with offices in the USA, UK, Singapore and Australia. Our platform, deployed with over 200 financial entities worldwide, empowers banks, brokerages and hedge funds with cutting-edge trading technology. oneZero's core product features a high-performance trading environment with real-time integrations to some of the world's leading banks and financial institutions.

We are currently looking for a motivated and talented C++ Software Engineer to join our Canberra Development team. In this role you will work collaboratively with a team of highly experienced developers from around the world on core technologies and critical real-time systems that drive the oneZero platform. A financial background is not required, however you must be able to learn new concepts quickly and apply them to C++ code design and algorithms.

oneZero is proud to have been named one of Business Intelligence Group's Best Places to Work 2021:
